SECTION 5 Overtime

ART. 1 . . . In tournament competition, when a match ends in a tie, the contestants shall wrestle 3 extra periods of one minute each (consolation matches included), starting the first of these periods in a neutral position and conducting the entire overtime as a separate, regular match. Injury time, penalties, warnings and cautions are not carried over into the overtime.

ART. 2 . . . There shall be a one-minute rest between the regular match and the first overtime period and no rest between the 1st and 2nd or 2nd and 3rd overtime periods.

ART. 3 . . . Only the points scored in the overtime shall be counted in determining the winner. Points are not cumulative throughout the match and overtime periods. The wrestlers shall be notified of this prior to the beginning of the overtime.

ART. 4 . . . To determine the winner of an overtime match which ends in a tie, the following criteria are applied in the order listed.

1. A wrestler whose opponent has been penalized the greater number of times for misconduct or unsportsmanlike conduct shall be declared the winner.

2. If a tie remains, the wrestler who has accumulated the greater number of points for near falls shall be declared the winner.

3. If a tie remains, the wrestler with the greater number of takedowns shall be declared the winner.

4. If a tie remains, the wrestler with the greater number of reversals shall be declared the winner.

5. If a tie remains, the wrestler with the greater number of escapes shall be declared the winner.

6. If a tie remains, the wrestler whose opponent has been penalized the greater number of times for stalling shall be declared the winner.

7. If a tie remains, the wrestler whose opponent has been warned for stalling shall be declared the winner.

8. If a tie remains, the wrestler who scored the first near fall shall be declared the winner.

9. If a tie remains, the wrestler who earned the first takedown shall be declared the winner.

10. If none of the criteria 1 thru 9 decides a winner in the overtime, then apply criteria 1 thru 9 to the regular match.

11. If none of the foregoing resolves the tie, the referee (and/or mat judges or assistant referee, if being used) shall determine the winner on the basis of overall wrestling ability, including aggressiveness.

ART. 5 . . . The criteria for determining superior wrestling ability are attempts to secure falls, takedowns, reversals and escapes.

Can Rochester Rise to the Top?

By Neil Kerr

Syracuse Post-Standard

Despite championship finishes by 119-pound Marty King of Canandaigua and 250-pound John Brennan of Pittsford, Section Five (Rochester area) saw its team lead disappear during the finals of the 1983 State Intersectional Wrestling Tournament here in the War Memorial.

During the '83 finals, muscular Section Eleven (Suffolk County, L.I.) caught up and passed Section Five when tourney "Most Outstanding Wrestler" Dan Mayo of Sachem won the 177-pound class crown for Eleven. Then, Ted Gregory of East Islip-11 triumphed at 215 pounds and Eleven won the team crown, 215-211, over Section Five.

This year, the Rochester area is determined to improve upon its runnerup finish of last March. Says reporter Gary Fallesen of the Rochester Democrat & Chronicle, "We've got seven sectional champions returning to the 'states.' This looks like our year."

If Section Five is to triumph, strong finishes will be needed by 126-pound favorite King (164 career wins), plus returning section champions Butch Hibbard of Canandaigua at 98, Paul Lamphier of Canandaigua at 105, Tim Quinn of East Rochester at 132, John Suhr of Spencerport at 145, Brian Kurlander of Rochester Brighton at 155 and Chris Schojan of East Rochester at 177. That's a formidable nucleus of outstanding scholastic wrestlers.

If Section Five falters, Long Island sections Eight and Eleven are both loaded with talent again. Since this tourney started in 1963, Eight (Nassau County) has finished first more times than any other section — nine times. And, Section Eleven owns four team titles, including last year.

Other strong sections look to the host Three and the Capital District (Section Two) team.

The green-uniformed Section Eight team points to returning 91-pound state champion Rich Pidgeon (now at 105) of Locust Valley, returning 112-pound Willie Warren (104 career wins, now at 119) of Freeport, Luis Palacio (105 career wins) of Long Beach at 126, Michael Bevilacqua (28-0) of Berner at 132, returning Empire State 126-pound champion Mike Arena (101 career wins) of Mephram at 138, and Greg Linkner (25 pins in 27 bouts) of Rockville Centre Southside) at 177 pounds.

Palacio is the younger brother of former three-time state champion (1980-81-82) Al Palacio. Bevilacqua is the highly-regarded son of former Massapequa High and Hofstra University wrestling coach Al Bevilacqua.

From Section Eleven, a handful of champions return from the 1983 Intersectional champions' lineup. Topping that list are 132-pound Joe Plante (27-0) of Brentwood, 155-pound Ron LaSorsa (25-2) of Bay Shore and 250-pound All-State football player Larry Iacona (16-3) of Sachem. Plante was a state runnerup in 1983 while LaSorsa wants to improve upon his 6th-place showing of a year ago. The Suffolk delegation is also counting on unbeaten sophomores Ricky Brzozinski (28-0) of West Islip at 91 and Gene McNeil (31-0) of Huntington in the two lowest weights. Others who rate mention are the Cummings' twins, David and Darren, of Smithtown East at 119 and 126, Joe Mannix (33-0) of Northport, unbeaten Jim Reffelt (32-0) of Shoreham-Wading River and rugged Jim Collins (33-1) of Amityville at 177.

Seeking to win in front of the hometown crowd will be the gold-uniformed Section Three team, featuring team "MOW" Steve Bradish of Mexico at "119, unbeaten Tom Becker (33-0) of Beaver River at 138, powerful Cornell University-bound honor student Andy Rice (106 career wins) of Lowville at 145, returning state placewinner Jeff Merritt (32-0) of Fulton at 155, returning section champion Pat Conners (30-1) of Baldwinsville at 177 and returning state runnerup at 250, Randy Morrison (26-1) of Lowville.

Conners is the younger brother of former state champion Mike (177 pounds, 1980). Mike last Saturday won the NCAA Division III tourney title at heavyweight for St. Lawrence University.

Also a team with title hopes is the Capital District's Two, led by returning state 112-pound champion Jeff Clark (148 career wins) of Voorheesville. The highly-touted Clark, with the most career wins in Section Two history, is a heavy favorite again at 112.

Others to watch from Two include returning Phil Mosso (30-1) of Amsterdam at 105, the Staulters' twins, Lee and Wesley, from Ballston Spa at 126 and 132, Mark Sabo (106 career wins) from Granville's well-known Sabo family of wrestlers, returning state placewinner Reinaldo Garcia (27-1-1) of Amsterdam at 155, rugged Jason Morris (35-0) of Burnt Hills at 167 and powerful Mark Hines (31-0) of Queensbury at 177.

A longshot team looking to move up in the standings is Western New York (Six), featuring returning Rob Waddington (32-1-1) of Pioneer at 105, returning Ron Leder (37-0) of Salamanca at 132, unbeaten Todd Freischlag of Lewiston-Porter and Dom Cianchetti (34-1) of Niagara-Wheatfield at 177. Cianchetti is the younger brother of 1974 state champion Paul Cianchetti.

From perennial contender Section Four (Binghamton-Elmira area), defending Empire State champion Bret Penrith of Union-Endicott (a transfer from Windsor) leads another good team. Also highly-regarded from Four are returning Troy Monks (27-1-1) of Odessa-Montour at 105, Treavor Erney of Maine-Endwell at 119 and perhaps Angelo DePersis (32-1) of Union-Endicott at 145.

As wrestling begins, the four defending champions in action are Pidgeon of Mephram, Penrith of Union-Endicott, Clark of Voorheesville, and King of Canandaigua, all in the lower weights.

Among the awards at stake this weekend is the "Most Outstanding Wrestler" trophy awarded jointly by the Coaches' Association and the Sportswriters' Association. Sachem's Mayo, now a varsity regular for Penn State, took home the award last March.

Again this year, no pre-meet seedings were issued. Pairings were drawn from a box, with returning 1-2-3-4 placewinners separated by brackets where necessary by state chairman Reed Hawke. This practice is the fairest possible since seedings are difficult to agree upon. Wrestlebacks were introduced to the tournament 12 years ago to give defeated wrestlers a chance to eventually place third and acquire team points for their section as well.

To all teams and champion wrestlers, we in Central New York extend our congratulations for having earned a trip to the 22nd annual New York State Intersectional Wrestling Tournament. Good luck, and we hope everyone enjoys the state finals, win or lose.

By NEIL KERR Syracuse Post-Standard

If defending New York State 119-pound champion Marty King of Canandaigua High in Section Five can achieve victory in his opening match of the Intersectional Tournament Friday, the five-time State Meet competitor will become the winningest wrestler in Empire State scholastic history.

King, undefeated during the past two winters of a brilliant career, elevated his career record to 164 wins, 11 losses and a draw when he won the Section Five Tournament last weekend. King's 164 victories equals the existing state record, set here in 1981 by 112-pound state champion Tony Cotroneo of Irondequoit High, also in Section Five. Cotroneo currently wrestles at 118 pounds for the nearby Syracuse University team.

King will be seeking the 126-pound New York State title this weekend and will be favored to accomplish his goal. "I'd like to finish my high school career with two state titles, and maybe even win that 'Most Outstanding Wrestler' award if I can," says the optimistic Canandaigua senior.

King's words may sound a bit like wishful thinking, but a glance at King's scholastic record shows that he has usually accomplished the goals he has sought. For five straight years, King has won the Section Five tournament and then advanced to Syracuse, placing 2-3-4-1 in his four appearances here. Over the four years, King has competed at 91, 91, 112 and 119 pounds, logging consecutive annual records of 24-5, 37-2, 32-4 and 38-0-1 in varsity action prior to this year. This winter, Marty has a 33-0 ledger to his credit.

And King's record wasn't achieved against token opposition, not at all. Canandaigua, guided by coach Larry Reynolds, has vied against almost the state's toughest dual meet and tourney schedule annually, traveling across much of New York State to meet the state's highest-ranked teams.

This winter, Canandaigua traveled to Ohio, meeting champions from four states in dual meets, including the No. 1 ranked squad in the United States, St. Edward of Ohio. "Best darn team I ever saw," said Reynolds after Canandaigua could manage just nine team points against St. Edward's. In his bout, King posted a 15-1 victory over a talented St. Edward's opponent.

King, captain of the Canandaigua Braves, was recently called, "the best wrestler I have ever coached by the veteran Reynolds, who also coached at Salamanca High in Western New York for a number of years before his stint at Canandaigua.

King, being avidly-recruited by such college wrestling powers as Penn State, Oklahoma State, Louisiana State and Clarion State, is the fourth and final wrestling son of former Golden Gloves' boxer Robert King, a Canandaigua restaurant manager. Before Marty came wrestlers Mike, Mark and the most appropriately-named Matt King, all of whom were standouts in Section Five. Of the three older brothers, Matt enjoyed the most success, winning the New York State 132-pound title in 1981 here. Today, Matt occupies the 142-pound class for the University of North Carolina varsity.

Marty, too, is looking forward to a promising college career. "I'd like to wrestle for a Division One school next year, probably at 134 pounds," says King, a 5-7, athlete who competes in a number of other sports in other seasons. This past fall, King was a 145-pound middle linebacker who earned Finger Lakes League all-star status after helping the state-ranked Braves achieve the finest season (9-1) in school history. King was the team's second-leading tackler. "We lost our opening game by two points to (defending Section Five champion) Penn Yan, a game we should never have lost," recalls King. "Then, we won our last nine games and the sectional championship in our class."

For college, King will forsake a football career to concentrate on wrestling. "I know it's a big jump from competing in high school to wrestling at a Division One college," observes King. "Every guy you wrestle is tough, with a high school record about like mine."

Correction. Very few athletes have compiled a high school record like Marty King's. Chances are, nobody in New York State will have won as many matches in his career by the time the 22nd annual New York Intersectional Tournament concludes. King opens this meet against the champion from Section Ten Friday afternoon, and will be favored to immediately break Cotroneo's state record with his initial victory. If King wins four bouts and a state crown, his 168 victories will become the new standard for Empire State wrestlers to shoot at.

There is little question King will be a marked man in the War Memorial as foes at 126 pounds try to prevent another state title for the current King of New York State wrestling. But is there pressure? After what King's been through, maybe not.

"I think the pressure is off him" says coach Reynolds. "He wanted so bad to win the state championship last year and he got it. Now, the pressure is off and he can open it up a bit."

King, who was selected as one of six All-Americans from New York State after his junior season, has already achieved almost every goal he set for a scholastic career. Able to bench press 220 pounds, it may be more than mere wishful thinking as King wrestles in hopes of hoisting the state's "Most Outstanding Wrestler" trophy in his arms here Saturday night.

RECORD INFORMATION

RECOGNIZING THE BEST . . .

Applications are invited for all performances which might be considered for inclusion in the National High School Sports Record Book, whether as new national records or for listing among the top performances in a specific category.

Performances must be established in competition conducted in compliance with the eligibility rules of the state high school association involved and all National Federation playing rules for the sport, unless the National High School Records Committee judges the variance in rules does not significantly give advantage to the establishment of the record performance.

Applications are available through your state high school associations and the National Federation. Completed applications must be forwarded to the home state association for its endorsement prior to consideration by the National High School Records Committee.

HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE
SUPER FACILITIES FOR WRESTLING

FEATURING:

I. THE BEST TAKEDOWN SERIES IN WRESTLING HISTORY

Easy to Teach and Learn: In the last nine months our staff has finally mastered the TEACHING TECHNIQUES of the greatest taken down series in wrestling history ... The Russian Inside Step, the favorite takedown of the Russian World Champions. With these teaching techniques, you will be able to teach your wrestlers the inside step series that it took my staff and I 12 years of study to master. When your wrestlers master these techniques they will be able to move and attack their opponent again and again in big matches, and not get caught in a bad position, with a good chance of getting the opponents knee or hip control with every attack. Your wrestlers will be able to attack with equal ease either leg and still step with the same foot forward every time. I feel that this is the greatest single hold a coach should know. This is the American take-down of the future. You need this take-down to say ahead of your opponents.

Along with the inside step techniques we have recently mastered the Russian technique of moving our opponent in a circle so that he has to raise or lower his chest or head. If he raises his head or chest we inside step him; if he lowers his head or chest we move him to the mat, and control his shoulder or arm pit for the takedown.

Along with our moving set-ups, we have mastered the techniques in teaching the Russian Arm Control and using it for the great moving set-ups that it affords for getting the Inside step and the reverse drags and outside single leg.

II. BOTTOM Wrestlers and coaches from 35 states (average) come to our clinics to learn the Granby Series.

We have greatly simplified our bottom techniques in the last year. We expect new wrestlers to learn our bottom moves after a few sessions. We drill how to clear our hips then roll, reverse escape even, or stand up, according to how the opponent reacts. You will like the new way of getting the hip free, yet preventing your opponent from breaking your arm down or riding your ankle. Once we clear our hips and get to the correct back out position we will drill you how to force roll anyone for 4 points - no matter how tough.

We drill you how to get out of all bad situations on the bottom; flat on your stomach, arm bars, half nelson, tight waist tilt, scissors. On the way out of bad situations we drill you to clear your hips, and get back into your opponent for the come out.)

SPECIAL ATTENTION WILL BE PAID TO THE YOUNG WRESTLERS TO MAKE SURE THEY MASTER OUR TECHNIQUES.

CHAMPIONSHIP AA

The Mat of Coaches and Wrestlers Insisting on the Best

- Registered PEC-10 Coating
- AAC Ensolite Foam Core
- Assembly Schedule Review, No Cross Seams
in Official Wrestling Area

When Polvomite introduced the process of Assembly Schedule Review, our competitors scoffed.

NOW!!! Every one of our competitors attempt to copy our specifications. We are not surprised, after all every major industry innovation has been initiated by Polvomite.

If you really believe that a mat with cross seams offers the same high quality as our Championship AA Mat. . .

AND

If you really believe a "precoated" mat is as durable as our registered PEC-10 coating — then you should purchase a mat from our competition.

BUT

If you want a mat which provides maximum safety protection, unsurpassed durability and offers the best opportunity to make the most efficient use of your available funds, then telephone or write our office for a price quotation on our Championship AA Mat.

The ultimate competition shoe from TIGER with the revolutionary NEW SOLE Dan Gable SUPER-FLEX

The ultimate in lightness...

New mesh weave means less weight, more flexibility and permits air to circulate keeping feet dry and cool.

The ultimate in traction...

The innovative Super-Flex sole treads follow the natural flow of the wrestler's foot action. Three specially designed and positioned "red traction spots" provide greater stability and position-grip. And the TIGER is NOW WIDER THAN EVER!

The ultimate in comfort...

The tongue, eyelet and ankle areas are specially contoured to "hug the foot" for a glove-like fit. It's like wearing a custom designed shoe.

The ultimate in flexibility...

So flexible it can be rolled up into a tight ball. Sole provides less foot drag (catching), resulting in the ultimate edge in reaction time and foot quickness. New heel insert allows complete foot extension and flexion for total control and mobility.

Dan Gable Super-Flex — for wrestlers who demand only the best. Available in White with Dark Navy Stripes; Sizes: 4-1/2 to 14.

Now the TIGER
has SPOTS, too!

Still available: our TIGER NYLON in White, Black and Navy; the TIGER CUB and the TIGER ALL-LEATHER.
